By Appointment.

La Côte. Biarritz, which is among the most fashionable of watering-places on the south-west French shore, is situated on one of the loveliest stretches of coast line which France possesses. The picture, which is taken from the neighbourhood of the Church presented to the town by the Empress Eugenie, shows some of the small harbours which have been provided for the accommodation of the boats engaged in the sardine fishery, of which Biarritz is a flourishing centre.
